ABOUT US

Muslims in every locality in North America have witnessed many people revert to Islam especially during the last few decades. They have faced various challenges as new Muslims, including being marginalized from Muslim communities, causing some to eventually leaving the faith.

It is the responsibility of Muslims in the society to provide support and strength to "Muallaf" (terminology used in the Qur'an 9:60 for brothers/sisters who are still new to the teaching of Islam) in the form of learning, moral, social, and financial support -- so they can learn, grow, and integrate into our big Muslim family.
